DEDICATION

We dedicate this 1952 annual to the old Grand Marais High School in which we have experienced sorrows and joys, trials and victories. We know these four years of high school have prepared us for the road ahead. And so, we, the graduating class of 1952, dedicate this annual with thanks and fond remembrances as the last class to graduate from the old school.

HISTORY

In the fall of 1948, 55 Voyageurs (graduates of '52) began our journey. We knew there was no elevator to success so—we took the stairs. In the first step of our journey, Hilding Bjorklund was chief canoe carrier; Gladys Creech, scribe; Gladys Nelson, chief bill collector; and Joe Hussey, council member. Gerry McCabe and Tom Fuller took turns as paddle carriers. In the course of this step we were initiated into the Royal Order of Fur Carriers. Delores Croft was chosen to represent us in the Royal Beauty Contest. (Homecoming.)

The second step of the journey was reached and we continued on our way. During this step of the journey, Joe Hussey was chief canoe carrier; James Hill, assistant canoe carrier; Lizabeth Backlund, scribe; Kathy Kenna, chief bill collector; and James Walker, council member. J. Paul Johnson and Violet Hansey were chief paddle carriers. JoAnn Brazell represented us in the Royal Beauty Contest.

The Voyageurs, climbing steadily, reached the third step. The chief canoe carrier was James Walker; assistant canoe carrier, James Blackwell; scribe, Gladys Creech; chief bill collector, Lizabeth Backlund; and council member, Joe Hussey. The chief paddle carriers were Charles McCoy and Ruth Blackwell. Gladys Nelson represented us in the Royal Beauty Contest. During one portage of this journey we stopped for rest and entertainment. The entertainment took the form of a farce comedy "Just Ducky" under the direction of Charles McCoy and in the hands of a very worthy cast and staff. Continuing along this step we encountered the 1951 Voyageurs in their journey and bid them come to the Lusten Resort where we served them a luscious banquet, during which many fine speeches were made. After the meal, everyone adjourned to the dance floor where we danced to the music of a fine orchestra and to the theme of "Moonlight and Roses." We then stepped out and said "good-bye" to our old friends, the 1951 Voyageurs.

HISTORY, Continued

The fourth step of the journey was reached and the fur carriers had dwindled to 35. James Walker was chief canoe carrier; James Hill, assistant canoe carrier; Gladys Creech, scribe; and Lizabeth Backlund, chief bill collector. Byron Johnson and Robert Tharp were chief paddle carriers. During this step we were given the honor of initiating the 1955 Voyageurs into the Royal Order of Fur Carriers. We were represented in the Royal Beauty Contest by Kathy Kenna. Another member of our party, JoAnn Brazell, was bestowed with the great honor of becoming queen and reigned royally during the remainder of the fourth step. Again we saw the need of entertainment so we stepped off at another portage where we again put on a farce comedy, "Love Is Too Much Trouble," under the direction of Dorothy Hochstetler. Once again the cast and staff did a fine job. One day when things weren't going too well, the Voyageurs decided we needed a rest, so took a one-day vacation from the duties of our journey. As we were walking quietly up the road of life, we heard a loud "hello." It was none other than our very dear friends, the 1953 Voyageurs, who had been following us up the road to invite us to a banquet at the East Bay Hotel and to stay over for the prom at the school house. As we left, we thanked the 1953 Voyageurs, waved a fond good-bye and, continued on to the fifth step of our journey.

Yes, we have reached the fifth step, but even so, we have not reached the ultimate success we have been searching for. We must continue slowly on up the road of life, for we realize more than ever, "There is no elevator to success, take the stairs."

PROPHECY

The year is 1962. The Grand Marais class of 1952 is holding its reunion in the new Grand Marais High School. This was the last class to graduate from the old school down town, so it marks an important day for the class of 1952.

As we walk into the large auditorium, we see some of our classmates already here. There is JIM BLACKWELL over in the corner. He has a reputation for never being late for anything. He really worked himself up in the world. In the past ten years, he has become a millionaire executive.

JEROME BRANDT has come down out of the woods for this big occasion. He is the owner of the Brandt Fur Market. With him is his assistant, JOHN SCHUPPEL, who knows all about trapping and hunting.

We see JACK NYLUND and DICK BERGLUND, ace detectives, enter the door. They saved their money for ten years to buy themselves a little gun and shoulder holster. With them is their private secretary, SHIRLEY HENDRICKSON. I hear that she earns quite a bit of money in the detective business.

Here comes another early bird. DIANE JOHNSON is merchandiser for a big dress firm in Florida. Right behind her is CAROL OLSON, who is a famous dress designer. Both are dressed to the height of fashion.

Now the nurses are entering in a group. They are: GLADYS NELSON, FLORENCE WILLIAMSON, JO ANN BRAZELL, ELIZABETH BACKLUND, BETTY JANE BACKLUND, and SONJA JENTOFT. They have all become full-fledged members of the Bed Pan Brigade. It took them ten years to obtain this high honor. Gladys is soon to become the wife of an Isle Royale fisherman, so will quit the nursing profession. Jo Ann is still going with a sailor, just as she was back in 1952.

Even though the weather is fine, VIRGINIA NELSON walks in wearing ski-togs. She just flew in for the reunion from Sun Valley where she is employed as ski-bum.

NEIL MCGIVERIN just came in the door. He is an instructor on square dancing in the thriving metropolis of Beaver Bay.

GLADYS CREECH, who is the commercial teacher in the new school, is coming in the door. I believe she left her husband at home with the twelve children. In 1952, her husband was in the Navy. With Gladys is DELORES CROFT, who teaches the first grade in the new school. You would be amazed at how much Delores has grown in the past ten years. She has now obtained the height of five feet, eight inches.

GERRY NELSON and CHARLES BACKLUND are now entering. Gerry repairs all the television sets for the new school, and Charles is the master plumber. They came in their work clothes.

BOB SUTHERLAND just slinked in the door. I hear from reports that he married a whale of a woman, and now is the most henpecked man in town.

What are all these children doing here? Oh, they must belong to MELVA SMITH. Her husband is out playing basketball, so she had to bring them with her.

Here come two men in uniform. My goodness! It is JIM HILL and GERALD PEDERSEN. I hear by the grapevine that they have remained buck privates for the past ten years.

PALMER BERGLUND, of the "Berglund Truckers" just came in. It is hard to get him away from that new truck of his. He is walking over toward the darkest corner. What is he doing? Just like old times, he leans on a desk and falls asleep.

JOE JOHNSON, in his Captain's uniform, just came in. He has been working on the Great Lakes since the St. Lawrence Seaway came in. We see he is chewing a match as usual.

SHARON PETERSON, the world famous traveler has just returned from her tour of Africa where she collected many specimens which she has agreed to display at the meeting. Her safari party was made up of members of the 1952 Finland Air Base.

BEATRICE JOHNSON, who teaches ballet in Beaver Bay, just tip-toes in the door. She has been teaching ballet and tap dancing for the past ten years.

JIM WALKER just flounced in. As usual, he heads for the corner where Florence is standing. Jim is now a mechanic for the taconite plant in Beaver Bay.

JOE HUSSEY, the famous basketball player of 1952, is now a well known lawyer. Joe still isn't married, and we are beginning to wonder if he ever will.

RONALD OLSON just flew in from his resort in Alaska. He went up there originally for a vacation, but had so much fun hunting and fishing that he decided to stay and open a resort. After the reunion, many of the group are flying up to his resort for a vacation.

GLENN CLEMONS, who is a mechanic in the Army, just came in wearing his uniform of a General. He certainly worked himself up in a hurry. Maybe he has a girl waiting for him.

DONALD LINDQUIST is now entering. He took over his service station and now is a millionaire. The gas station really paid off, I hear.

Here comes a lumberjack. My goodness! I didn't recognize GERALD PARENT behind that beard. He looks like he hasn't shaved for the past ten years.

Here comes Kate. After going to school for nine years, KATHY KENNA received her degree in Psychography and is now employed with the Swish-Swish Soap Company as a floor scrubbing demonstrator.

This brings to a close the reunion of the Class of 1952. It appears that the thirty-five seniors of 1952 have done quite well for themselves. As we leave them, they are busy planning another reunion for the year 1972.

Ah! What a year . . . our class has worked to one end, the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet.

We breezed into our Junior year by sponsoring the winning candidate in the Homecoming Celebration.

A quick look in our Treasury revealed that it was "mighty low" and so, racking our brains for new ideas to fill the mint, we used our super-salesmanship and ingenuity to sell basketball pencils and autograph books . . . one look at our bulging balance proved the fact that we had pulled our Treasury on its feet again.

Still not satisfied we ventured further into the financial field which included pop corn selling, and a very successful bake sale.

Let us not forget our trials and tribulations over the school paper, deadlines to meet, inky noses, advisors' threats, gossip column cut up by censor's scissors, and last minute corrections till at last "Papers Out!"

Along toward the middle of the year our energetic, athletic girls coped with the Seniors and the Sophomores to come up with the much-prized basketball trophy.

After a "heated" discussion and a few ruffled tempers the class chose the comedy play, "Here Comes Charlie," well-fitted to our class and designed to give our still insecure financial position the push to put on the Prom and Banquet.

On the nights of the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth of April, we presented the Junior Class play—"Here Comes Charlie." Judging from the reaction of the audience and the ringing of the till, the play was a minor success.

The goal toward which we had all been working came on May fifth when the Junior Senior Banquet was given. The banquet was a typical Junior venture, all in all being a tremendous success.

Following came the Prom on the tenth of May. What a brilliant show of splendor. The Juniors really proved their worth in this undertaking. The gym was decorated exactly the way any Junior would be proud to know was our Prom.

Following this we could relax and look forward to being Seniors and putting out the Annual.

CARNIVAL

The high school gymnasium was the scene of much and varied activity, beginning in the morning on November 10, 1952. And the reason was obvious for it was the day on which the third great Viking Carnival was to be held. This activity lasted until 8:00 P.M. when the basketball toss, grab bag, telegraph, dart throw, and all the rest of the booths were ready for the public to see and to buy from. Beginning the evening's fun was a program which received many laughs from the audience. Milford Humphrey Jr. did a "fine" job of conducting the "pep" band in one part of the program. During the course of the evening bingo was played, this concession giving to the winners many valuable prizes. The assembly was the crowded scene of the boxing matches, also, dancing was held in the other part of the assembly. The money from this successful carnival was donated to the Athletic Club. This carnival will long be remembered as the last to be held in the old school.

HOMECOMING

MELVA

KATHY

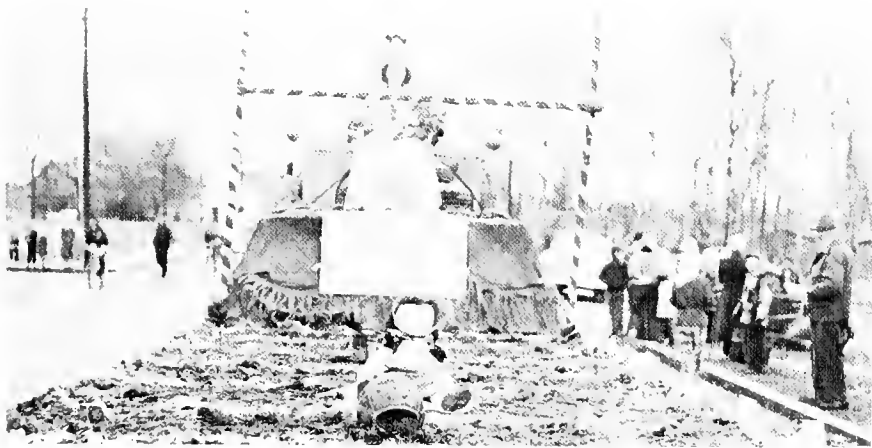

This year, for the first time in the history of Grand Marais High School, homecoming was held during the football season. The homecoming celebration lasted for three days, October 18, 19, and 20, during which was held skits, snake dance, community bonfire, football game with Floodwood, float parade, and homecoming dance.

A homecoming committee, made up of Diane Johnson, Denise Linnell, Helen Bergstrom, Curtis Burns, Byron Brown, Glenn Clemons, and Robert Sutherland, under the direction of Mr. Ikola, met to plan the festivities.

The night of the 18th, skits were held in the school gymnasium, and introductions of the queen contestants were made. On the evening of the 19th, people were startled to see a snake dance proceeding through the down-town streets. Traffic was held up for an hour while the happy dancers wound their way up to the airport where the community bonfire was already blazing. Yells and the school songs were led by the cheerleaders.

The next morning, with a cold drizzle to back them up, the float parade began. Many unique and original ideas were presented during this parade. In the afternoon came the highlight of the homecoming celebration: the football game with Floodwood and the crowning of the homecoming queen for 1952. At half time, Jo Ann Brazell, the Junior candidate, was crowned queen by Jim Hill, football captain. Her runner ups were: Kathy Kenna, Senior candidate; Melva Smith, Sophomore candidate. All three girls were Seniors, sponsored by the respective classes.

The night of the 20th, a homecoming dance was held at the school gymnasium to honor our queen, Jo Ann. We all certainly agree that this was the most successful homecoming ever to be seen at Grand Marais. Let's continue to have more in the new school in years to come.

The Grand Marais High School band in its second year of existence, under the direction of Mr. Ikola, has improved steadily, until now it is a band of which we are proud. And why not? With snappy blue and gold uniforms which are always clean and pressed and with white shoes all matching, they form a neat group of music makers. They won't have to worry about the weather spoiling their uniforms any longer either, for the P.T.A. sponsored a Tag Day to raise money for raincoats.

During the course of the past year our band has participated in many activities, one being a trip to Canada to play for the Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, now Queen Elizabeth II, and the Duke, the reigning consort. They can say without a doubt that they are the only American high school band to have played for such reigning royalty. A Christmas concert with the chorus proved to be very successful. The basketball tournaments brought our band to the Duluth Armory where they gave an excellent showing, as well in dress as in music making. Among the many and varied functions for which they performed are—homecoming, basketball games, and the village Christmas party. The rhythmic swing band has made a name for itself as a result of its major performances — playing for the Chamber of Commerce Dinner, the Central Ski Tournament, and the Job's Daughter's Dance. On April 18th they gave a concert which will long be remembered. On May 1st and 2nd, in Duluth, Grand Marais High was represented by the band at the Music Festival.

Concluding the year's activities the band played for graduation and Memorial Day. They are now looking forward to their first concert which they will play in the new school.

FOOTBALL

The Vikings were faced with their toughest schedule in their three-year history this year. Twenty-six able bodied men reported to the call, including nine seniors, eight juniors, six sophomores, and three freshmen. Although they faced tough competition, the season ended with two wins and three losses. No doubt, this experience will be invaluable next year.

The 1952 Viking basketball team was composed of almost entirely new faces. The only veteran ball players were Joe Hussey and Charlie Backlund. Captain Joe Hussey set a new scoring record for the school of 351 points, bettering his last year's record by 100 points.

Competition was strong, but the Vikings pulled through with six wins and eleven losses.

LOOKING FORWARD

We, the seniors of 1952, graduate with a feeling of happiness, yet sadness, too. We shall miss the old Grand Marais High School, where we have spent the last twelve years. We look forward, though, to the time when we will visit the following graduating classes in the new Grand Marais High School. As we walk through the halls, familiar faces greet us. Some of the teachers we had are still here, but many of them are new. We stop and talk over old times with the teachers we know. Our graduation seems like such a long time ago.

We are invited to see the Viking Carnival and the Homecoming. These are huge affairs, with the gymnasium decorated beautifully. There are big turn-outs for the school dances. Everyone wants to dance in the new auditorium, to the music of the dance band. The basketball games are wonderful to see. The new gymnasium holds so many more people comfortably. The football field is excellent. It is such a nice place to watch the games.

Then we think back to our own school days. Maybe we even miss going to school. Sometimes we wish we could begin our four years of high school over again, just to be a part of the new, modern Grand Marais High School. So, we the graduating class of 1952, bid farewell to our school days and say hello to the road ahead.

A big thank you to the advertisers who made the production of this annual possible.

The paths of the future lie before you. The light of understanding guides your steps. The day's task will seldom be light. Take pride in meeting and solving problems. Treat every new situation as a challenge.

Fear, frustration, and failure will try to be your masters. The conquest of all such is the result of seeking guidance from Above continually.

A day's work completed after this manner is the only lasting monument one may have.

The world is yours to study, understand and use.

We wish each one of you a life filled to the brim.
